

FORM CRS – CUSTOMER RELATIONSHIP SUMMARY

April 2024

Item 1. Introduction

Howard Financial Services, Ltd. (“HFS”) is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) as an investment adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ, and it is important for you to understand these differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

Item 2. Relationship and Services

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We offer investment advisory (which includes financial planning) services to retail investors, including individuals, high net worth individuals, estates, charitable organizations, and affiliated entities. This service is provided through the HFS Wealth Management division of the firm. The services include determination of investment and financial objectives, identification of financial deficiencies, risk analysis, and cash flow management. We offer strategic tax planning, legacy planning, retirement planning, insurance advice, and education funding recommendations. We also provide investment review and/or investment management services. Additionally, we consult small businesses on their organizational structure and help them plan for succession, merger and acquisition transactions, and general business planning.

Our primary investment strategy is strategic asset allocation of equity, fixed income, and alternative investments. If you hire us to manage your investments and maintain responsibility for investment implementation and oversight, we will prepare an Investment Policy Statement that documents aspects of your financial affairs and how your accounts will be invested. You may impose restrictions on investments that we manage on your behalf including sectors and types of securities. As your goals change over time, we will suggest changes and implement them as appropriate.

Our investment management services provide ongoing monitoring of your accounts. We manage your investments in light of market conditions, your goals, and risk tolerance. We typically receive discretionary investment authority at the onset of an advisory relationship. When you grant us discretionary authority, you provide us the authority to determine the investments to buy or sell in your accounts on an ongoing basis.

We may recommend affiliated private placements to clients that meet the Accredited Investor and Qualified Client investor standards. This service is provided through the HFS Capital Partners division of the firm.

If deemed appropriate, we may appoint one or more sub-advisor(s) to manage your accounts. In these circumstances, we will continue to monitor the activities of the sub-advisor(s) to ensure they are the best fit for your needs.

Requirements to open and maintain an account: The minimum account size for investment management is $750,000. We have discretion to waive the account minimum and annual fee.

Conversation Starter. Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3. Fees, Costs, Conflicts of Interest

What fees will I pay?

Financial planning services are billed as a fixed fee according to the degree of complexity associated with your situation. In some situation we charge an hourly rate. The fee for ongoing investment advice is based on a percentage of assets under management, and is calculated and paid quarterly, in arrears, based on the average daily balance of all billable assets in a client’s accounts or a fixed fee paid monthly or quarterly in arrears. In some cases, accounts will be charged a fixed annual fee, paid quarterly, in arrears.

Since some of our fees are based on the value of assets under management, the more assets there are in your accounts, the more you will pay in fees, and we may therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your accounts. The broker-dealer (custodian) that holds your investments can charge you a transaction fee when we buy or sell an investment for you. The custodian’s transaction fees are in addition to our advisory fee for our investment advisory service. You could also pay charges imposed by the custodian holding your accounts for certain investments and maintaining your accounts. If sub-advisor(s) are appointed to your accounts all fees charged by the sub-advisor(s) are in addition to our fees. Our fees vary and are negotiable.

Some investments, such as mutual funds and exchange traded funds, charge additional fees (management fee, operational expenses, etc.) which are distinct from our fees.

Additional Information. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any return on your investments. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. For more information, please see our Form ADV, Part 2A Brochure (Item 5) available at Form ADV 2A

Conversation Starter. Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means: We request you establish brokerage accounts with a qualified custodian of our selection. Charles Schwab makes available to us other products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit you.

We have affiliated limited partnerships through common control with the General Partner that we recommend to Accredited Investors or Qualified Clients. Affiliates can also receive management fees based on committed capital, invested capital, or current capital balance, up- front due diligence fees, and performance fees after achieving defined performance hurdles. We also receive advisory fees for investment advisory service of the partnerships and reimbursement of administrative expenses. This creates an incentive for us to offer investments and services that generate additional revenue for us and our affiliates and increase your assets in those offerings.

Additional information. Please see Form ADV, Part 2A Brochure (Items 5, 6, 10 and 14) and other applicable documents Form ADV 2A
